THE WONDERFUL
HERBAL OINTMENT

If your skin is sore, injured or diseased, Zam-Buk is the one remedy that can be depended upon to soothe and cure. Smarting pain, soreness and irritation are quickly ended by this famous Zam-Buk ointment. It has powerful (yet perfectly safe) antiseptic properties that destroy poison germs in wounds, sores, abscesses, ulcers, etc. It expels all bad matter and grows new skin.

Zam-Buk is so highly refined that it soaks readily into the tiny pores, purifying and healing in deeper tissues as well as the surface skin. The marvellous soothing and curative powers of Zam-Buk are due to its rare herbal origin, refinement and guaranteed freedom from animal fat. Never be without a box of Zam-Buk.

Budapest, May 11.
France and Italy have jointly recommended the Yugoslavian Government to withdraw the charges brought before the League of Nations against Hungary in connection with the Marseilles murder, according to a report by the newspaper, "Pesti Naplo" which was confirmed in diplomatic circles.
The charges are on the agenda of the League Council session opened on May 20 and it is not yet known whether Yugoslavia will follow the French and Italian suggestions.

WORLD'S LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP

New York, May 11.
Tony Canzoneri won the world's lightweight boxing championship last night before 17,433 fight fans when he outpointed Lou Ambers in a 15-round contest at the Madison Square Garden.

Landing blows almost at will and shooting stinging rights and lefts to the body and face, Canzoneri reduced Ambers to a mere zephyr. The bell saved Ambers from being knocked out in the third round, during which he was twice floored with terrific left hooks, once for a count of two. Canzoneri held back in the last two rounds, apparently not wanting to slaughter his opponent.

Bucharest, May 11.
Ex-Queen Elisabeth of Greece who is a sister of King Carol of Rumania gave a long official audience on Saturday to the Greek Foreign Minister, Makinos who is now in the Rumanian capital for the Balkan Conference. This visit caused no little sensation of speculation in political circles where it is coupled with the recent reports of the possibility of the restoration of Greek monarchy, more especially this was the first time any official representative of the Greek Government has been in touch with the former royal family, even the Greek Minister here having previously carefully avoided all contact with the ex-Queen.

The final resting place "Do-X," once the world's largest flying boat and well-known for her Atlantic flight in 1931 when she succeeded in reaching America, will be the newly instituted aviation museum in Berlin, where it will form one of the chief exhibits and will be a reminder of the stage in the development of German aviation. The hull is now lying alongside the quay "Westhafen," one of the harbours of the inland port of Berlin, while the wings which were dismantled some time ago have already been delivered to the museum.

The declaration, attributed to General Goering, which was published in the Daily Telegraph and other London papers that Germany intends to bring her air force to top power standard, that is, equivalent to two European countries together, was categorically denied on Friday in a statement issued by a semi-official news agency. Neither at a semi-public meeting last week, as alleged by the British Press, nor on any other occasion, says the agency, has Goering ever stated that Germany intends basing her air arm on the two-power standard. At no time has the Premier ever made, spoken or written an intimation of this nature, particularly as such extension of air force is not contemplated by the German Government.

A CLOSE WATCHFrance and Balkans Conference

Bucharest, May 10.
A conference of the signatories of the Balkan Pact, Rumania, Yugo-Slavia, Greece and Turkey, was held to-day to discuss various economic questions.

It is believed the conference will decide to oppose the restoration of the Hapsburgs to the throne of Austria and the re-armament of Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria, unless the Great Powers supply sufficient guarantees.

The presence of M. Paul Boncour, the French statesman, is interpreted to mean that France is particularly interested in the outcome of the conference.

It is reported here that the French Legation will shortly be elevated to an Embassy and that King Carol will later visit Paris. This is regarded as a blow to the pro-German movement.

It is hoped also that the conference will agree to establish a clearing system to supercede the monetary transfers until international exchange difficulties are overcome.

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, May 11, 7:30 p.m.)
Paris, May 11.

Experiments with watertight tanks have been in progress at Mauberge for the past week at the headquarters of the 509th regiment. These fighting machines are said to be able to traverse in water up to fifty inches deep without difficulty. The so-called amphibious tanks have hitherto been able to remain only quarter of an hour under water whereas the tests show that the new type can stay below over hundred minutes in the bed of the river and then be manoeuvred onto the land again without difficulty.

The Committee doing the tests intends to make an experiment to see whether these tanks cannot be used for throwing bridges provisionally across rivers, the tanks being ranged along the bottom of the stream from end to end or crosswise with ordinary building material piled on top and over this the army could pass quickly, the bridge then disappearing again.

UNIVERSITY AIR SQUADRONMay Take Form Of An O.T.C.

The London University Air Squadron, approved by the Senate and by the Air Ministry, will be formed in the near future. Training will begin at the beginning of the winter term.

It has been tentatively suggested that the London squadron should take the form of an Air Officers' Training Corps.

This is a very different basis from that of the Oxford and Cambridge air squadrons, which are non-military.

Recently the Oxford and Cambridge squadrons were authorised to increase their membership beyond the maximum of 75. The increase was to be limited to those who intended to apply for permanent commissions in the R.A.F. The civilian character of squadrons was in no respect to be changed.

It is understood that although the constitution of the London squadron has been discussed, neither the Air Ministry nor the Military Education Committee of the University has any official cognisance of a suggestion which, if adopted, would give an entirely new meaning to the university air squadron idea. On the other hand, the Air Officers' Training Corps may be a logical development.

Headquarters at South Kensington for the London University Air Squadron have been selected, but are not yet approved. It is probable that the flying headquarters of the squadron will be at Northolt Aerodrome.

RED MORNING

For persons who cannot afford to pursue the extensive itinerary prescribed by the multi-coloured literature of the travel agencies, "Red Morning," the new thrilling melodrama of the South Seas, is said to offer a vicarious trip to British New Guinea and the Fiji Islands as well as worth while dramatic action story, showing on Wednesday at the King's Theatre.

Two well-known explorers, George Dromgold and James Shackelford, spent more than ten months in this British settlement off Australia. Facing tropical perils and risking their lives every time they pointed their forbidden cameras toward the tribal existence of the natives, they authentically captured the characteristic dances, eerie religious rites, and habits of life of these Polynesians. Dromgold and Shackelford are said to be the first explorers to penetrate this last frontier of civilization for the benefit of the motion picture industry.

The location scene shots are embodied into a thrill story depicted by a group of Hollywood favourites. Steffi Duna, of "La Cucaracha" fame and Regis Toomey portray the romantic leads.

WHIRLPOOL

How inexorably adverse circumstances may dog a man's footsteps throughout life is ably and vividly depicted in Columbia's "Whirlpool" with Jack Holt in the starring role; the story unfolds and builds to a dramatic denouement with more than usual interest throughout.

Rankin, a carnival owner, played by Holt, is sent to the penitentiary for twenty years on a charge of manslaughter and shortly learns that Helen his bride of but a few months is to bear him a child. She swears eternal fidelity and in order to release her from the life of a convict's wife, Rankin, through a cleverly planned ruse, leads her to believe he has died in an attempted prison break.

At the expiration of his term he soon establishes himself as the underworld chief, Sheldon, with the aid of his former henchman Mac, who furnishes him with help and the audience with his thousand-and-one imaginary ailments. Holt's true identity discovered by Sandra, his daughter and his wife's marriage, to a prominent judge, greatly involves matters. An inescapable situation ensues when a shy lawyer unearths Sheldon's past and threatens the wife and daughter, and the story speedily moves to a startling climax.

MIDNIGHT ALIBI

"Midnight Alibi," First National's picturization of Damon Runyon's thrilling romance of metropolitan New York of the present day, is scheduled to open at the Alhambra Theatre on Wednesday, with Richard Barthelmess in the stellar role and Helen Lowell, famous New York stage favourite in an outstanding characterization.

Much in the same tempo as his "Lady for a Day," Runyon has drawn gangster characterizations in whimsical vein, in a story that carries an unusual romance and many thrills. The unusual friendship that springs up between the proud old aristocrat, Abigail Ardsley, and the young racketeer, Lance McGowan, who seeks refuge in her secluded mansion when pursued by a rival gang intent on putting him on the spot, dramatizes the spirit of New York as few, if any other stories, have done.

Barthelmess has the role of the gangster, and also appears in a short episode as the sweetheart of the aristocratic spinster when she was a young girl forty five years before. It is the resemblance of the two youths that draws the spinster to the gangster. Miss Lowell appears as the elderly Abigail Ardsley, and is said to give a remarkable performance, and one that will proclaim her as one of the leading screen players as she had formerly been on the stage.

Ahn Dvorak plays the role of the present day sweetheart and sister of a rival gangster, enacted by Robert Barrat. It is this love affair that eventually leads to the murder of the brother with Barthelmess accused of the crime, although innocent.

OLD PARLIAMENT FILMED

Cabinet Ministers who attended the first night of "Clive of India" must have been interested by the detailed reconstruction of an 18th century Parliamentary inquiry.

The old St. Stephen's Hall was reproduced, and Burgoyne's bitter reproach, when he accused Clive of corruption, was heard again:

Perhaps my Lord Clive will now deign to reply and let us judge whether his gift of oratory can explain this other—"gift?"

Clive's reply, again, was taken from the original speech.

I was sorry, however, not to hear Mr. Ronald Colman declaim Clive's famous exclamation:

By God, Mr. Chairman, at this moment I stand astonished at my own moderation!

While noticeably better-looking than Robert Clive, Mr. Colman had all the soldierly sternness the role required.

For rough comparison, I give as illustrations the Clive of Nathaniel Dance in the National Portrait Gallery and the Clive of Mr. Colman.

"Ptoteie," said her chaperone sternly, "you are not to say such things. She's a very naughty girl, Mr. Dogberry. She's having quite a wonderful time really—now, aren't you, Ptoteie—say you are! Why look at our programme, Mr. Dogberry! Last Wednesday, Exhibition of Vegetarian Foods; Thursday, lecture by Dean Inge; Friday, debate: 'Do Theosophists

"Sump'n dam silly," said Ptoteie with a yawn. "Can't remember what."

"There you are," said her chaperone. "She's such a naughty girl, Mr. Dogberry. All she thinks about is necking parties."

"And then some," said Ptoteie.

MARIE GALANTE

A FOX Picture with SPENCER TRACY KETTI GALLIAN

MARIE GALANTE

French Actress Scores

"Marie Galante," that much awaited picture had its initial showing at the King's Theatre yesterday and with it was Ketti Gallian's debut on the screen. After having read the advance accounts of the picture we went to the King's expecting to find entertainment of a high order and it may be said without any exaggeration that we were not disappointed.

Miss Gallian plays the part of the little French waltz whose heart breaking existence in the Canal Zone forms the theme for "Marie Galante" and she did it in so able a manner that it is to be hoped we shall see more of her pictures on the local screen.

There is also humour in plenty in "Marie Galante," the chief contributors to this being Ned Sparks and Stepin Fetchit, both of whom are well-known to local cinema fans. Mention must also be made of Spencer Tracy who is co-starred with Miss Gallian in the picture and between the two of them, ably helped by a sympathetic supporting cast, they have given us another excellent contribution to the silver screen.—F. M. A.

Knotty Problem

It is a statement made on a gramophone record written or spoken?

This question is agitating the minds of several eminent counsel.

A well-known man thinks that a gramophone record which is being sold in its thousands casts a reflection on his character.

He consulted a solicitor with a view to bringing an action. "The record is libellous," he said.

"No," replied the solicitor, "it is slanderous."

Then he thought again—and decided to consult counsel.

"Obviously slander," said the counsel, "because the words complained of are spoken in the recording studio."

A second counsel was consulted. "Libel," he said. "It must be libel, because the words are electrically written on the record."

Still not satisfied, the solicitor went to a counsel with even greater experience than the other two. "Libel and slander," he said.

And that's that!

SWEET ADELINE

An Excellent Show

Life in the gay old nineties is re-lived on the screen in "Sweet Adeline" a musical comedy which is having simultaneous runs at the Central and Alhambra Theatres.

The production of the picture is superb and the settings and scenes leave nothing to be desired in fact the loveliness and the originality of it are seldom seen and unlike most musical comedies it does not depend on the beauty of the "girls" for its charm.

Irene Dunne herself strikes the note which starts it off in a different key from most other pictures, for she is not the tap dancing, blues singing type that we as often see.

She has a delightful voice and is given full scope in the new songs that she is given to sing. Her exquisite voice is heard to good advantage.

In the way of humour Hugh Herbert provides it in plenty and life in "the good old days" is set forth in all its details.

Others in the cast are Donald Woods, Ned Sparks, Joseph Cawthorn, Louis Calhern, Winifred Shaw, Nydia Westman, Dorothy Dare, Phil Regan, Don Alvarado, Jack Mulhall and Noah Berry.

Dances songs and a delightful plot all go to make up "Sweet Adeline" an entertaining picture which fans will be certain to enjoy.

This is one of those musical comedies that should not be missed.—O. M. O.

ARLISS UBER ALLES

Dr. Goebbels's Film Board has banned the exhibition in Germany of the British film "The Iron Duke."

The German view, it appears, is that the film does not do justice to the greatness of Marshal Blücher, who is given only a "minor part" in the victory of Waterloo.

In this country not every student of history felt that full justice had been done in the film to the Duke himself.

But we liked Mr. Arliss, not caring if he tended, as he doubtless did, to overshadow supporting players. Perhaps the Reich Gov-

INCORPORATED ACCOUNTANTS

The Society of Incorporated Accountants celebrated its jubilee with a dinner on Wednesday.

Three of the original members—Sir James Martin, who was the society's first secretary, Mr. Frederick Walmsley and Mr. Edward Whitaker—were present.

When the society started it had only 200 members and poked little offices in Gresham-street. It now has 6400 members and a magnificent building of its own on the Victoria-embankment.

The society was formed five years after the Institute of Chartered Accountants. It is the more democratic of the two organisations.

To become a Chartered Accountant it is necessary to be articled and pay a premium. A man who has worked for nine years as an unarticled clerk in an accountant's office can qualify for membership of the Incorporated Accountants.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS

The following story has reached the writer:—

Sir James Barrie is writing a play for Miss Elizabeth Bergner. One day recently he took tea, as he often does with Princess Margaret Rose. One of her remarks gave him an idea for his play.

When he got home he wrote to the Princess, thanked her for his tea and the idea, and said that he proposed to pay two-pence as royalty.

A day or two later Sir James received a letter from Princess Elizabeth.

She was writing, it said, on behalf of her sister, who unfortunately could not write herself.

As her sister's literary agent, she wished to know whether the two-pence was to be a payment outright for literary work or whether it would be paid for every performance of the play.

ernment should tempt him with a good contract to place Blücher in the gallery, which already includes the Duke, Voltaire, Diderot and Nathan Rothschild.

WEDDING BELLS

Pinna-Britto

A very pretty wedding was witnessed by a large gathering at the Rosary Church on Saturday when Miss Yolanda dos Merlins Britto, the third daughter of the late Mr. J. M. Britto and Mrs. Lia Soares Britto, became the bride of Mr. Luiz Gonzaga de Pinna, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. de Pinna of Messrs. Harry Wicking and Company. The Rev. Father R. Rossi officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her eldest brother, Mr. F. M. Britto, looked charming in a gown of white satin crepe trimmed with white roses which had a long white train. She carried a bouquet of arum lilies.

The bride's sister, Miss Alda Britto and Miss Ern Xavier, attended as bridesmaids and were dressed in neat ensembles of blue organdie. They carried similar bouquets to that of the bride. The bride's mother wore a flowered georgette dress.

Master Jerry de Pinna, the groom's nephew, who was dressed in a white satin suit, was the page boy.

After the ceremony a reception which was attended by nearly 400 guests, was held at Club de Recreio when the Troubadours jazz band was in attendance.

The happy couple left for Canton where the honeymoon will be spent. The bride's going away dress was a very pretty blue albane silk dress with hat and veil to match.

VAN ES-GLOVER

Union Church, Kennedy Road was the scene of another pretty wedding on Saturday when Miss M. D. Glover of Sydney, New South Wales, Australia became the bride of Mr. C. I. Van Es, an officer in the Chinese Maritime Customs and formerly of the Java China, Japan Line.

The bride who arrived at the Church in the arms of Mr. Fred Sulzbach was dressed in white satin and georgette and carried a bouquet of white lilies. Mrs. Harvey was the Matron of Honour while Mr. D. Campbell, also of the Chinese Maritime Customs performed the duty of the best man.

A number of intimate friends, including several officers from C. J. L. and C. M. C. Ships attended the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. E. G. Powell.

A reception was held at the Jacobean room of the Hong Kong Hotel and the bridal couple then left for Repulse Bay where the honeymoon will be spent.

LOCAL AIR LICENCES

Notice No. 1 to Airmen, of this year, published in the "Government Gazette" of February 22, 1935, is cancelled and the following notice is substituted:—

As from the April 1, 1935, every pilot holding a Hong Kong Class B (Public Transport and Aerial Work) civil pilot's licence, who cannot produce satisfactory evidence that he holds:

(a) has already passed the "instrument flying" test at the Royal Air Force Station, Hendon; or

(b) has during his service in the Royal Air Force passed satisfactorily a course in instrument flying at the Central Flying School or other instructional unit; or

(c) has carried out "instrument flying" in Royal Air Force Squadrons during Squadron training; or

(d) has undergone an instrument flying course at an approved civil training school or establishment, will be required, as a condition of the renewal of the licence, to pass the practical flying test in "instrument flying" specified in paragraph 87 (1) (e) of the Hong Kong Air Navigation Directions, 1932 (No. 1) as set out in Notification No. 202 published in the Hong Kong "Government Gazette" of March 8, 1935.

Test Specified

The test specified in paragraph 87 (1) (g) of the Hong Kong Air Navigation Directions, 1932, No. 1, set out as before, is as follows:—

"A flight with the examiner on board in the course of which the candidate must without exterior view maintain correctly during the 30 minutes his line of flight and carry out ordinary manoeuvres solely by the use of the instruments on board."

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH

Thanksgiving Service

The Thanksgiving Service in connection with the Silver Jubilee of their Majesties King George and Queen Mary was held in St. Joseph's Church, Garden Road, yesterday morning. Mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Giles, Naval Chaplain. The students of St. Joseph's College formed the Choir rendering "Soul of My Saviour," "I'll sing a Hymn to Mary," "O Salutaris," and "O Purest of Creatures," in all of which the whole congregation joined.

The preacher for the occasion was the Rev. R. W. Gallagher, S.J., who delivered an eloquent and impressive sermon. Taking as his text: "Servants, be obedient to them that are your Lords according to the flesh, in the simplicity of your hearts, as to Christ. Not serving to the eye, as it were pleasing men; but, as the servants of Christ, doing the Will of God from the heart. With good will serving as to the Lord and not to men." (Eph. vi 5-7).

Father Gallagher traced the course of history, showing the part played by their Majesties in a period of intense worry, anxiety and care. He stressed the example given by the King and Queen in their family life, and in the conscientious carrying out of the many and arduous duties of their exalted position, their spirit of sympathy with all, even the lowliest, of their subjects, their observance of God's Commandments.

The Road Mapped Out

The preacher continued: "The text I have chosen may seem a strange one for such an occasion as this: 'Be obedient to them who are your Lords according to the flesh,' but it is just in that obedience that you, my dear men, can give to the world a living, concrete example of the spirit which has brought you here to-day. By loyalty and the observance of your oath of fealty I do not mean sharing in parades and pageantry. I do not mean the offering of ourselves in moments of exaltation and enthusiasm to make great sacrifices, even to the risking of life itself. I know that if His Majesty were to ask one of you to face death for him you would do it, and do it willingly, and yet even that is not the loyalty of which I speak. It is something far more difficult, something which a great Saint of God called the hardest thing in life. It is the loyalty of one marching along the road mapped out by Christ, and along which He Himself walked with such infinite perfection: 'Unless you deny yourselves, take up your cross daily and follow me, you cannot be my disciples.' It means the perfect fulfilment always and at all times of the tasks which are yours because you have taken your oath of fealty.

Loyalty to God

We may say of the King that which the centurion said of himself: "I am a man subject to authority. I say to this one 'come' and he cometh, to that one 'go' and he goeth, and to another 'do this' and he doeth it." The King to whom you have sworn allegiance derives the great power and authority of his exalted station ultimately from God Himself. He is also subject to authority, the authority of God. Your acts then must be directed to God, you must obey 'not as to men but in the simplicity of your heart as to Christ.' You must see in the fulfilment of your daily tasks the fulfilment of the Will of God, and by that fulfilment sanctify each and every act you do, even such trivial things as the polishing of the buttons of your uniform. You must show your loyalty by guarding the good name of the uniform you wear. That you will not do unless you observe the Commandments of God. If you—and I want you to impress this deeply in your hearts, because it is so absolutely true—if you are not loyal to God, you will not be, you cannot be loyal to your King.

The Supreme Test

Supernaturalize each act of the day—and it is within your power to do that—and make your lives such that if at any time, as a supreme test of your loyalty, you stood face to face with death you could meet it with a smile.

On great occasions it is customary to make resolutions, to determine to avoid something that is wrong, to do or to do more perfectly something that is good. I want you to-day, as an earnest of your sincerity in coming here to take part in this celebration, to make up your minds in a manly, straightforward manner to be loyal to God, to be real servants of God, and by

AROUND THE COURTS

PEPPER ATTACK SEQUEL

A snatching incident with pepper being brought into use on May 2, at Duddell Street, had a sequel before Mr. W. Schonfeld and Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen, sitting together, at the Central Magistracy on Saturday when Chan Yau Cheong, a shop hok was convicted when charged with the theft of a handbag containing $5.30 in money, a pair of spectacles and a cheque from the person of Mrs. Florence Eva Thornhill.

Found guilty he was sentenced to 18 months' hard labour and 20 strokes of the birch, or an additional six months if found unfit for birching.

Describing the incident Detective M. Murphy said that as Mrs. Thornhill was returning to her home after show at 9.20 p.m. she was mounting the top steps of Duddell street when the defendant snatched at her bag and threw pepper into her eyes. A struggle ensued during which the complainant fell to the ground. Defendant ran away and was arrested by an Indian constable in Ice House Street.

After corroborative evidence was given by Mrs. Thornhill, Mr. A. Jackson, Government Analyst, Sgt. Baldwin and the Indian Constable, defendant was convicted.

NO PASSPORT

Charged with entering the Colony without a valid passport on May 9, Mrs. Makko Nagano, of No. 483, Nathan Road was fined $5 by Mr. A. W. G. H. Grantham at the Central Police Court on Saturday.

Defendant said that when she bought her passage in Japan, the N.Y.K. told her that a passport was not necessary and that the certificate she had was sufficient.

Sergeant Mottram in evidence said that the certificate she referred to was her certificate of registration in Hong Kong. She has been here for four years and had gone to Japan for a holiday. People had been warned by their consuls that proper passports must be needed for their return.

Defendant's husband said Sgt. Mottram was in a good position here being the manager of a Japanese firm, and he did not ask that a serious view to be taken of the offence.

TO CARE FOR LEPERS

Action To Be Taken

As an outcome of the recent report of the Committee on Lepers, the Hong Kong Government is shortly introducing a new Ordinance to deal with the subject, the draft of which has now been published.

Viewed generally the new Ordinance gets away from the idea that a leper settlement or asylum is to be regarded as a prison and regards it instead as a centre for treatment and as a retreat for severe cases or those who are deserted by their relatives.

Magisterial powers are not given to the persons in charge of the settlements as it is considered safe for leper offenders to be brought before ordinary tribunals. Should it be found necessary, in any particular case where isolation is necessary, to impose a term of imprisonment arrangements can now be made for such isolation in prison.

The new Ordinance repeals the Ordinance of 1910. By section 2 the Governor-in-Council may appoint places to be leper settlements. The former provision in section 2 of Ordinance No. 24 of 1910 forbidding private asylums has not been re-enacted as it is intended to entrust the management of leper settlements to suitable missionary or philanthropic bodies.

Section 3 enables the Governor-in-Council to make regulations for the better carrying out of the provisions of the Ordinance, and for the well-being of the leper settlements and the inmates thereof.

The Ordinance does not expressly make leprosy a notifiable disease

THE D. B. S.

The School Chapel of the Diocesan Boys' School was crowded with teachers, parents, friends and pupils when the Rt. Rev. R. O. Hall on Saturday officiated at the confirmation of the following 14 boys: Ma Poo Hong, T. Matthews, C. Matthews, H. Rathnam, E. Chung, Kuan Sze Wan, Kuan Sze Kin, D. Knox, J. Chang, J. Banker, N. Kollachoff, E. Fisher, Au Ding Fun, and A. L. Dalsiel. All were prepared for confirmation by the Rev. C. B. R. Sargent, the Headmaster of the school.

The Rev. L. L. Nash, the school chaplain, assisted the Bishop in the service, while the Rev. H. W. Baines was also present.

case as sufficient provision for that purpose is made by the powers conferred on the Governor in Council by section 8 (2) (b) of the Public Health (Quarantine and Prevention) Ordinance, No. 12 of 1935 which is to be brought into force shortly by Proclamation. Under section 2 of that Ordinance leprosy is included in the definition of "disease."

Section 5 deals with segregation in cases where the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services deems it necessary. It is now realised that segregation is not essential in all cases of leprosy which by modern methods of treatment may be cured at an early stage and mitigated at all stages.

Section 6 provides that when lepers are detained in the settlements they shall not leave without the written permission of the officer in charge.

Section 7 controls alien leper immigration, while Section 8 deals with the appointment of Justices of the Peace as visitors of leper settlements.

ARMS HELP TO ABYSSINIA

Italy Concerned

Rome, May 10. While official circles are reticent it is believed the Government has made representations to Great Britain and to France, as co-signatories with Italy of the Treaty of 1930, with respect to the question of the importation of arms into Abyssinia.

"Giornale de Italia," in an inspired article, has stated that a certain Government is concerned, and the attention of this Government has been drawn to the fact that Abyssinia is obtaining large quantities of armaments. Further, this Government has already given a precise promise with regard to the question of control of armaments.

GETTING READY

This same journal goes on to report and describe Ethiopia's military preparations. It states that troops are concentrated in two vast zones facing the Italian Somaliland and on the Eritrean front the Abyssinian forces can be rapidly increased.

The Abyssinian plan of mobilisation is "ancient, but effective, and is carried out through local chieftains or by beacons lighted on the hillsides. Women and slaves are among the mobilised forces already in the field."

Rifles and ammunition have been distributed already and routes to points of concentration have been supplied to the sub-chiefs and provincial leaders.

Completion of a landing field for military uses is being rushed on the Somaliland frontier and new wireless stations and telegraphic posts are being installed. A war tax has been imposed on all inhabitants.

COFFEE FOR ARMS

Greatest apprehensiveness is said to be felt by Italy regarding the massing of troops on the 8,000 mile frontier between British Somaliland and Kenya.

"Giornale de Italia" charges that Germany has furnished the Abyssinian Government with large numbers of rifles and machine-guns, anti-aircraft guns and armoured cars, fast, very modern Junker aeroplanes and, possibly, materials for the manufacture of poison gas.

The journal quotes figures showing the number of cartridges and machine-guns imported into Abyssinia since the beginning of the year. Payment for these has been arranged for over a period of nine years and by exchange of Abyssinian products, especially coffee.

THE GOLD RUSH

Canton, May 11.

Nanning reports that rich gold deposits have been discovered in the Wong Wah Shan Mountain of Pan' Young District of Kwangsi Province.

Ever since the discovery of gold in this mountain, thousands of people have proceeded to the locality daily in the hope of finding gold.

A township of matched buildings has suddenly come into existence for the housing of the "pioneers" and for the sale of provisions etc.

A barren waste has now been transferred into a flourishing town, and it is reported that the daily takings of gold is most encouraging, one party of miners having obtained a quantity of gold worth over $4,000 in one month.

Owing to the fears of trouble, the District Authorities are adopting measures for the maintenance of peace and good order.

RIGID ECONOMY

Canton, May 11.

Owing to the fondness for coloured silk clothes and extravagant living on the part of the people, it is reported that the District Magistrate of the Loong Chuen District in view of hard times and trade depression, has circulated an order amongst the officials of the different departments, advocating rigid economy in dress and living.

Accordingly, all officials have been advised by the District Magistrate to wear home-made cloth uniforms and clothes, from the beginning of this month.

THE SILVER JUBILEE

London Dresses Up

London, April 5.

The transformation of London into a gala city has begun. For some weeks past the work of erecting stands from which people may see the King drive to and from St. Paul's Cathedral on May 6, has been going busily forward in the Mall and Constitution Hill, where also the Office of Works are now erecting Venetian masts. These masts are 30 feet high and 50 feet apart and each is surmounted by a crowned lion. The pennons will not go up until a few days before the celebrations begin.

Apart from the decoration of business and private houses the main burden of transforming London falls on the Corporations of the Cities of London and Westminster, through whose streets the procession passes. The Office of Works are concerned almost exclusively with the Mall and Constitution Hill and the floral decoration of the government buildings in Whitehall, where British nurserymen will brighten the scene with window boxes.

Railway Bridges

An impressive feature of the City of London's decorations will be the treatment of the railway bridges that span Ludgate Hill and Queen Victoria Street, to designs prepared by students of the Royal College of Art under the direction of Sir William Rothenstein. The general colour scheme will be red and white, the City's colours, but at the City boundary there will be an abrupt change to blue and gold, which are Westminster's colours.

The scope of Westminster's decorative scheme is best realised by the fact that £25,000 is being spent on it. Masts and bannisters and artificial floral garlands are the basis, but a new note is introduced by the profuse display of blue and gold lamps which will give exciting contrast to the floodlighting after nightfall.

In addition to streets on the procession route, the stretch of Piccadilly between St. James's Street and Piccadilly Circus is to be elaborately dressed by the Westminster Corporation, as well as Parliament Street and Whitehall, along which the King will drive to Westminster Hall on May 9 to receive Addresses from the Lords and Commons, and Regent Street, through which he drives on May 11 on his return from the first of his visits to Outer London.

Floral Scheme

Regent Street is to be conspicuous, too, for its windowbox display and an elaborate floral scheme has been arranged for Bond Street. Twenty floral arches linked with garlands are to be erected by the Bond Street Association and all the traders have been asked to decorate their windows with flowers.

Private firms and individuals are entering heartily into the scheme of making London the gayest city in the world. Hotels, clubs, stores, theatres and offices big and small will all be transformed. The most ambitious individual scheme is that of Selfridges, where the decorations are not limited to the premises themselves but to extend to the roadway, four lamp-posts in the centre of Oxford Street being changed into fifty foot silver pylons.

Britannia

On the roof there will be a gilded plaster statue of Britannia (forty feet high, and standing on a steel base of the same height) flanked by colossal gilt lions. Selfridges is 80 feet high. The height from the roof to the top of the statue will be exactly equal to the height of the building from the street to the roof. A huge replica of the Coronation Crown will surmount the recess in the centre of the building and at night the jewels in it will be lighted. The Britannia statue is from a model by Sir Reld Dick, R.A.

One of the Silver Jubilee decorative schemes will not mature until the autumn, when Regent Street will be floodlit from end to end. So large a scale illumination is this that it has been decided to maintain it for a term of years.

RIGHTS AFTER DEATH

Damages For Pain And Suffering

An important ruling affecting victims of accidents was given by Mr. Justice Humphreys at Birmingham Assizes.

He held that under the Law Reform Act passed last year the administrator of a dead person's estate could recover damages for pain and suffering caused to the dead person during life.

The Judge added that it was obviously a case which should be considered by the Court of Appeal. When moving the second reading of the bill in Parliament in June, the Solicitor-General explained that it provided that the right of action was preserved after the death of an injured person.

The action which Mr. Justice Humphreys tried was one in which Alfred Rose, of Mount Pleasant, Childs Wickham, sued Bernard Joseph Ford, of Warwick-road, Olton, for damages. The plaintiff sued as administrator of the estate of his daughter, who, when riding in a motor-cycle combination, received fatal injuries as a result of a collision with defendant's car.

Claim "Might Be Thousands" Damages of £300 under the Fatal Accidents Act and £500 damages under the new Act were awarded, and leave to appeal was granted in regard to the £800 award.

Referring to counsel's argument that while in the case the damages could not be very large owing to the fact that the girl only lived four days after the accident, Mr. Justice Humphreys said a case might arise where a person had been grievously injured and lived for months in pain and suffering, and then died. In those circumstances computation of extra damages might amount to thousands of pounds.

He had arrived at the conclusion, not without hesitation, that in any case where a complete cause of action in the deceased was proved, the estate of that person if he died was entitled to recover damages, and damages which the deceased himself could have recovered.

INVASION OF CLUBS

For The Jubilee

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, April 18.

The feminine invasion of London clubs on the route of the Jubilee procession will be considerable, writes a correspondent.

As I have mentioned, the citadel of the Athenaeum has already capitulated. Nearly every other of these fortresses of the male will lower its barriers on May 6.

Some clubs have thought it best to make special provision for members who are unwilling even for a day to see ladies in the precincts.

Hospitality has been arranged for the dispossessed at other clubs off the route.

Unlimited Champagne The guests will be entertained with gratifying elegance. The Union Club, for example, is putting up a stand for 300 overlooking the Mall, and providing lunch with unlimited champagne.

The tickets will cost 3gns each. Half of this is allocated to the lunch.

Similar prices rule at the Carlton and Reform Clubs. Tickets at the Reform must be bought in couples. The member may, however, give them both to guests.

The United Universities Club will provide 150 seats on its stand at 2gns each. Ladies are to be admitted and can be entertained to lunch.

"Worthy" Decoration At White's tickets are more expensive—£4 or £5, varying with the luncheon. The club notice points out that "it is obviously desirable that the Club should be decorated worthily."

The St. James's Club tickets will be as much as 6gns each—if they are available at all. To set up a stand, which involves shoring up a balcony, would, it appears, cost about £350.

I understand that it is not yet settled whether the club will go to this expense.

In nearly all cases it is expected that applications will exceed the accommodation. Ballots will therefore be held.

The ladies' clubs, I hear, are not all reciprocating this gallantry. The Ladies' Carlton offers seats to members at 1gn. Nothing as yet is said about men guests.

PENSIONS PLEA DISMISSED

"Not Within" Court's Jurisdiction

A Glasgow petition, referred to by the Lord President as "incompetent," was dismissed by the First Division of the Court of Session.

It was by Mr. R. J. Hodges, director and manager, Anchor Line (Henderson Brothers), Ltd., Glasgow, and others, the trustees of the staff pension fund of the Anchor Line, and sought direction relating to the trust estate under their charge.

The pension scheme was established in 1913, and the administration was entrusted to a pension committee of four elected equally by the directors and the staff.

The original objects of the scheme were to provide pensions for employees on their retirement but subsequently the scheme was enlarged to provide pensions and allowances for the widows and orphans of employees.

Difficulties Through Depression Difficulties had arisen owing to the financial position of the company caused through trade depression.

The petitioners had been informed by the company, that payment of interest on the deposited fund would finally cease on March 31. They were also advised that a purchaser had been found to take over the business, and that the liability of the company for the deposited fund would not be taken over, and that as a first step in the change-over liquidation of the present company was likely to ensue at an early date.

Certain questions arose as to the rights of contributors in the event of liquidation and also as to their rights in the interval between the present date and the commencement of the liquidation. Questions also arose as to the rights of pensioners and widows and orphans.

The petitioners asked to be authorised to pay pensions at 33 1/3 per cent. of the present rate.

Not for Directions

The Lord President said the petition was in substance not a petition for directions to the trustees with regard to their duties. It really was a petition for directions to the Committee of Management as to how they should act in framing their budget or making their demands upon the trustees, and that was not within the Administration of Justice (Scotland) Act, 1933.

His Lordship wanted to say in the clearest possible way that he arrived at this conclusion with great regret, but if they were to attempt to use the Court as a consultative body in such circumstances as were presented in this petition his Lordship was afraid they could not avoid exceeding, and immensely exceeding, the limited, if useful, jurisdiction which was reposed in them by the Statute of 1933.

SURPRISE VISITS

By King And Queen.

London, May 10.

The King and Queen paid a surprise visit this morning to Lambeth, Battersea and Wandsworth to see the Jubilee decorations in some of the poorer districts south of the river.

News of the visit spread rapidly, and Their Majesties, who travelled unobtrusively in a closed car, did not disguise their pleasure at the warm and spontaneous welcome they received from people who thronged close round the car as it proceeded at walking pace.

During the afternoon, the Queen drove through the West End of London.

Mr. Lloyd George, Father of the House of Commons, will travel with the Prince of Wales to Cardiff to-morrow, when, as the King's representative, the Prince will attend the Welsh Jubilee celebrations.

Irritability — Sleeplessness — General Weakness — Fatigue — Lack of Appetite and many troubles HOW of the Stomach and Intestines these strenuous times take it out of you! Is it any wonder your nerves suffer.

Do not allow this condition to continue too long, or you may do yourself irreparable harm—some serious disease may be the result. Your body is crying out for assistance and Sanatogen contains exactly those helpful elements your body needs. Start your course of Sanatogen today, and drink in new health and vitality. Just as the parched earth takes in rain, your overstrained nerves will drink in Sanatogen. Energy will return and soon you will enjoy again that priceless feeling of youthful fitness. Sanatogen has made you thoroughly healthy again!

A London physician writes: "A noteworthy effect of Sanatogen is a better appetite, which is generally noticed within three or four days after beginning this nerve food."

One of the many forms in which "nerves" manifest themselves is disorders of the stomach. Digestion—like every other function of the body—is governed by the nervous system. "Heavy digestion," "weak stomach"—all these troubles are in 9 out of 10 cases due to overstrained nerves. That is why Sanatogen often works wonders in all troubles of the stomach and the intestines. And even in the most serious cases of stomach disease Sanatogen is prescribed by the leading physicians, because it not only regulates the functions of the stomach, but also because it is so easily digestible and gives the stomach a rest. Enjoy your meals again, enjoy life again, by taking Sanatogen. Sanatogen is absolutely trustworthy. Over 25,000 physicians have expressed their admiration in writing.

What is Health?

SANATOGEN adds health to your system. It conquers nervous conditions by feeding the nerves, is easily digestible and gives new fresh blood.

And that famous medical paper, "The Lancet," says: "There is abundant evidence of the value of Sanatogen as a restorative and food, more especially in cases of general debility."

LESSON SERMON

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

"ADAM AND FALLEN MAN"
was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 12, 1935.

The Golden Text was, "As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life." (John 3: 14, 15).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. Therefore as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life." (Romans 5: 17, 18).

The Lesson Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Through discernment of the spiritual opposite of materiality, even the way through Christ, Truth, man will reopen with the key of divine Science the gates of Paradise which human beliefs have closed, and will find himself unfallen, upright, pure, and free, not needing to consult almanacs for the probabilities of his life or of the weather, but needing to study biology to learn how much of a man he is." (p. 171).

LOVE BY MORSE

Mysterious morse flashes from the heights of Middle Harbour, an arm of Sydney Harbour, and responses from a coaster, late at night, have intrigued late-homers in the vicinity for some time. Now the secret is out.

A sailorman, who evidently does care, has been teaching his lone-some spouse to flash morse messages as his ship enters the Heads. Regularly they exchanged greetings; she from her hilltop home and he from his ship. Sometimes she deciphered his replies, but often his more experienced use of the lamp left her guessing.

A few nights ago she was keeping her midnight vigil and soon picked out the lights of a ship. "Good night, darling; see you in the morning," she flashed, knowing he would have leave at daylight.

Back came the reply in quick flashes, quite unintelligible to the novice, but enthusiastic enough to send her to bed happy.

Came the dawn. Slipping from bed, she dashed to the window to see him leave his ship. An early mist slowly lifted; there was the ship.

But it wasn't his. Now, who did send that message and what was it? Another mystery of the sea.

POOR DIPLOMACY

Although they did apparently agree that Sir John Simon should speak for them all in his conversations with Chancellor Hitler, it was not at all surprising that Britain, France and Italy found some trouble about a new approach to Germany. Is it too much to hope that they have in some measure also recognised the need for more genuinely peaceful methods than the old "power diplomacy"? For the failure of that approach should surely now be quite clear.

When a bluff is called it looks not a little ridiculous and the ancient and outworn game of diplomatic bluffing in which the former Allies had been indulging recently has been embarrassingly exposed by Germany's announcement of open arming in defiance of the Versailles Treaty. It seems futile to try and make peace with an olive branch in one hand and a sword in the other and the situation looked extremely ridiculous the minute Germany picked up a sword herself.

It is to be regretted that Germany feels that her honour and liberty should be measured in armaments though very few people are able to throw stones in condemnation. There are the nations who have not only refused to reduce their arms but felt bound to increase them even while demanding that Germany should disarm.

It now seems that Germany has extricated the former Allies from that hypocritical position, and it would be a pity were Germany now to adopt not only her neighbours' reliance on arms but also their bluffing use of them. According to every nation, arms to-day are supposed to be used for purposes of defence only though actually they are chiefly employed in offensive diplomacy. This is as true for Japan and America in the Pacific as it is for Germany and her neighbours in Europe, and everywhere this bluffing business is not only provocative but also dangerous.

By bluffing sows the very distrust and ill-will which causes a piling up of weapons which always invariably leads to open hostilities. Further, it may be pointed out that in addition to the above, bluffing is highly inefficient, for no self-respecting country will submit to threats. They should have no place in the epochal negotiations now in progress for only as bluffing stops and diplomacy begins to seek what is fair and right, will peace in Europe, and indeed throughout the world, be firmly established.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY

Picturesque Ball At Hankow

Hankow, May 1. Last Friday night marked the last Ball of the Season when the St. George's Society held their annual function at the Race Club. The "Bulling" was converted into an old English Fair ground, the predominant features being the booths and tents of red and white striped material, and the roundabouts and whirligigs situated in each corner of the floor, with knights in armour standing on guard. A profusion of rosettes and the shields with the cross of St. George added to the brilliancy of the scene, while red, white and blue paper chains festooned across the ceiling finished off the effect. At the south end of the hall was a large marquee entrance under which Mr. and Mrs. Fisher received the guests. At the other end of the floor the bandstand was transformed into a minstrel's gallery decorated with rosettes and a bower of marguerites under which the Race Club Orchestra provided the music for the dances.

The Navy Entertainers interspersed in the programme were some old English dances, the waltz, barn dance and polka, which were thoroughly enjoyed as they created such a diversion to the

EARLY MORNING NEWS SUMMARY
ROBBERY

Kowloon Incident

Property and money to the total value of over $500 was the haul made by three robbers, all armed with daggers, at No. 1, Cornwall Road Kowloon yesterday.

Chan Kit Mui, 20, a married woman residing at the address, in her report to the police stated that shortly after 6.15 yesterday morning she was awakened by somebody in her room and getting up she was seized by the neck by a Chinese while standing nearby were another two men armed with daggers. They stripped her of all her jewellery and bound and gagged her. The room was ransacked after which the robbers left her there and went to an adjoining room, occupied by another married woman named Ho Mo Yung, who was similarly treated. The robbers remained on the premises for over an hour.

After the robbers had left, the two women managed to free themselves and made a report to the police. The haul comprised six finger rings, one gold and jade stone brooch, three pairs of spectacles and money.

THE PRINCE OF WALES

As Spanish Scholar

The Spanish Ambassador, Senor Don Perez de Ayala, speaking at Cardiff recently described the Prince of Wales as the first of the Spanish scholars in this country.

Mr. W. J. Treseder Griffin, chairman of the South Wales branch of the Ibero-American Institute, welcoming the Ambassador at Cardiff Coal and Shipping Exchange, said that he hoped one result of the visit would be that the barriers which had been created and were stopping trade between the countries would be broken down.

The Ambassador, replying, referred to the work being done by the Ibero-American Institute. It was certain, he said, that the two modern languages which were spoken over the greatest tract of land on the globe were English and Spanish. Spanish-American nations became fully-populated in proportion to the extent of their boundaries and their different natural resources, so the number of human beings speaking Spanish would be multiplied by 10.

English and Spanish were the only two Imperial languages of modern times, as was Latin in the old world. The time would come when much the greater part of Western civilisation would be represented by peoples speaking English and Spanish. If Britain were to retain the legitimate preponderance which she had won and maintained during centuries, it would be because she had comprehended this inevitable fact of the future.

"I should say," added the Ambassador, "that there is something of fate in the happy circumstance that the President of the Ibero-American Institute should be the Prince of Wales himself, whom I venture to classify as the first in every respect of the Spanish scholars in Great Britain."

"As Spain's representative I have great pleasure in expressing once more the gratitude of all my fellow countrymen towards the Prince, to whose love for our language is due the increasing spread of Spanish in this country."

modern fox-trot and waltz. A buffet supper was served in the part-mutual room during the evening, and the many guests, who included the presidents of other societies, consular and naval officials, and other local foreign officials, carried on with the dance until the small hours of the morning, to bring to a close another successful event in the annals of the Fort.

The programme for the celebration of the King's Jubilee is nearing completion, and it will be a day packed with receptions and "at homes." The official "at home" will be at the consulate between the hours of 6 and 7 p.m. while Admiral Chilton, C.B., and Officers commanding gunboats have issued an invitation to all the British community of Wuhan to attend on board H.M. ships from 12.05 o'clock onwards.

The Chinese Procession in connection with the Silver Jubilee presented another unusual spectacle yesterday when it paraded through the streets of Kowloon.

The local Tennis League season opens to-day when two matches in the Mixed Doubles Championship will be played. A full programme of the matches in the various divisions has been arranged for the week, and this will be found on Page 10.

Two pretty weddings were solemnised at the Rosary Church and the Union Church respectively on Saturday, when Miss Yolanda dos Merlins Britto became the bride of Mr. Luiz Gonzaga de Pinna and Miss M. D. Glover was married to Mr. C. J. Van Es.

A special Jubilee Thanksgiving Service was held at St. Joseph's Church yesterday morning. A large number of people attended while the sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. Gallagher, S. J.

An explosion on board a junk which was heavily laden with a cargo of oil, off Tsun Wan on Saturday morning, resulted in ten people being killed. For a few minutes after the explosion it was feared that the Texas Oil Company Installation would be involved.

Col. Eaves, who for the past twelve years had been Acting Land Officer, left the Colony recently on retirement. Before returning to England, Col. Eaves will visit Australia and other places in the vicinity.

CANTON NEWS
IN BRIEF

Colonel Under Arrest

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, May 12. Colonel Tsai Teng Fal, commanding officer of the coast guards, is imprisoned here and his guards at Blas Bay were disarmed and disbanded.

Charges against the colonel are brought by the people around Blas Bay. Rear-Admiral Chang Chi Ying made investigation and found the charges to be quite substantiated. He therefore ordered the arrest of Tsai, who happened to be here to report for further instructions.

It transpired that Colonel Tsai was a bad character before he and his band joined government service. He was in alliance with pirates and sold arms to them. His coast guards were found to be hand in glove with pirates. It is also suspected that Tsai had something to do with the Federated National Salvation Army, launched by Mr. Chu Cho Wen, who was executed in Shek Kee for starting this movement.

Waitresses' Appeal Waitresses in Canton are not satisfied with the ruling of the Municipal Kuomintang that only twenty per cent. women should be employed in restaurants and eating houses in general. This quota is deemed by the girls as too small and as prohibitive in nature. They are making an appeal to the Women Association for assistance in securing a bigger quota.

A petition was made to the Kuomintang South-west Executive Committee by the waitresses that they should be treated on the same footing as men. A circular message was issued yesterday making clear their stand.

Jubilee Films Under Probe It is understood that the Film Censorship Board is examining the films taken in Hong Kong in connection with the Silver Jubilee in Hong Kong. These films are intended to be exhibited in Canton, Petchan, Kowloon, Chanchuen

If Gossip We Must

(BY "PRUDENCE")

So the King's Jubilee is over, the public functions and private parties have come to an end, and the gay decorations are down, and all the lovely lights have burned out; just one thing remains, and that is the feeling of satisfaction felt by one and all. Yes, for once in a way our Colony can proudly take a bow, with the certainty that what was done was very well done indeed, and that our celebrations were a really colossal success.

One of the finest examples of the good-fellowship which prevailed throughout, was the memorable Jamborally held last Wednesday, when Guides, Scouts, Brownies and Wolf-Cubs of many nationalities met on the football ground, and gave a splendid display which delighted the huge audience present. Here we must pause to tender our congratulations to Lady Southorn, who has done so much for the Girl Guides by her wonderful work as the Colony Commissioner, and whose fine example is an inspiration to those who work under her. Lady Peel too has the cause much at heart, and the gorgeous banner she presented will be a lasting souvenir.

Felicitations are likewise due to the Rev. N. V. Halward, the Colony Scout Commissioner, who will be sadly missed during his absence on leave.

Everyone agreed that the Jamborally was a very good show, and such fun too. It was so exhilarating to see all those young folk doing their stuff: all those charming white-clad girls, jolly boys and stalwart young men. The little Brownies looked such darlings when they formed their long chain by linking hands, and how stirring was that marvellous Wolf-Cub howl!

It is difficult to say what impressed us most, yet I think everyone will remember with a chuckle the jolly troop of Guides who came in with a hop a skip and a jump; the amusing Scouts with "Klons" as their cry; the faultless "Swedish-Drillists," the quick and clever bridge-builders, and the quaint and pretty Moral Pageant, which charmed us greatly.

Best of all was the organization; and when His Excellency the Governor arrived all the boys and girls marched smartly in, and passed the saluting base. Hats off to the clever organizers who made this possible!

AT THE GRIPS

I blew into the old Grips on Wednesday night, after watching that fascinating fish-lantern procession, and found quite a number of Well-Knowns languidly dancing despite the heat. Mrs. Paton was there, more beautifully bronzed than ever. Jean Patterson was

Mr. T. E. Pearce leading in one of his successful candidates at the last Race meeting.

"a wearin' of the green" (my poetic way of saying she had an emerald gown) Mrs. Persa had the loveliest long coat of shimmering moonlight sequins. Dear Little Doreen Ma was the sweetest thing in sapphire blue. What an accomplished pianist she is to be sure; I always endeavour to listen-in, when she is on the air, talking of which reminds me that quite a number of people came on from the Studio, where they had been enjoying the charming concert arranged by Mrs. Gregory and Gus D'Aquino, whose up-to-date songs and duets were the feature of the evening. Not in the least tired by her efforts, Mrs. Gregory was gaily dancing with a party who had a big table on the Upper Deck.

Peggy Morrow was there, and has got me quite converted to the cult of checked tartan (a fashion set by the film "Little Women"). Mrs. Clutterbuck looked fresh and pretty and Jean Bird wore a most picturesque dress of quiet smoke-gray, with bands of brilliant colours at the hem. There were others too, but I was too tired to be observant, and now the Jubilee is over I propose to emulate the dormouse and slumber till the next great event comes along.

THE AMBULANCE HEADQUARTERS

(BY "ONLOOKER")

The new St. John's Headquarters in Tai Hang Road is a very fine building indeed; and a goodly company of people turned up to see the opening ceremony. An imposing guard of honour consisting of uniformed members of the Brigade was lined up to receive H.E. The Governor and Lady Peel. While waiting for the official party to arrive I took stock of my neighbours and as usual, Mrs. Cock was one of the first to catch my eye. She was wearing a beautifully cut white dress with a white hat to match, with touches of green and black. She is another of the wise people who choose individual clothes. Mrs. Stafford-Smith looked delightful in pink—a popular colour this season. Yvonne Shenton was in yellow with an amusing (in the new sense of the word) white hat. Mrs. Langley was in uniform of course, and was very busy looking after all the guests. Mrs. Dovey—who of course ought to be called Dr. Dovey—only it is so difficult to distinguish her from her husband was looking particularly smart in her full regalia.

The Chinese community was equally well represented, but unfortunately I do not know all their names. Sir Robert Ho Tung was very handsome in a beautiful blue gown. How infinitely becoming is the Chinese dress to both sexes.

EXCELLENT WORK

Lady Peel wore a charming pink dress, with touches of white, and a white hat; and as soon as the official party arrived the ceremony of opening the door began. After a few preliminary speeches we all went into the beautiful big lecture hall. Then Mr. Chan Man Chi, who, like his father has done so much for the Brigade, made a speech, and presented a key to His Excellency, and later a beautiful Chinese screen with Chinese characters thereon—so far more decorative than any form of European lettering, and when the address was translated for us we realised more than ever the flowery beauty of the Chinese language. If only it was not so difficult for us poor ignorant Westerners to learn!

Speeches over we explored the whole building, then a delicious tea was served (Champagne was there too!) and we finally came away with an urgent desire to associate ourselves with this fine body of men and women who do such wonderful work amongst the poor and the needy.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Two cases of small-pox and two of enteric fever were reported for the 24 hours ending on May 10.

All the Churches and places of Worship in the Colony yesterday morning held services of thanksgiving in connection with the King's Jubilee, each of which was attended by large congregations.

The ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the new Central British School, in Argyle Street, Kowloon, will take place on Wednesday at 5.30 p.m. H.E. the Governor, Sir William Peel will perform the ceremony.

The Hindu Association gave a tea party in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Jaichand Watanmal at the Hong Kong Hotel Roof Garden yesterday.

At to-morrow's meeting of the Rotary Club the speaker will be Rotarian R. Robertson whose subject will be "New Deals."

WINDSTORM TOLL IN NORTH CHINA

Nanking, May 12. Three labourers were killed, telephone and power lines damaged, and telegraphic communications with Hankow, Tientsin, and Kinkiang interrupted as the result of last night's windstorm which swept the city.

A brawl between two Indians resulted in one being sent to Hospital for treatment and the detention of the other by the police. It appears that A. Mohamed and Ahmed Gull were friends before the incident and living at No. 85 Lockhart Road. At about 2 p.m. on Saturday while near Arsenal Street the two men were engaged in a quarrel and a little later blows were exchanged with the result that Gull suffered injuries to his head which were inflicted by a walking stick.

Captain E. Godinez, staying at Room No. 7, Station Hotel, Nathan Road, has reported to the police that during the hours of 4 to 5.30 p.m. on Saturday a gentleman's brown leather dressing case was stolen from his room at the hotel. It contained personal articles, papers and jewellery, to the total value of $40. Among the papers was his Master Mariner's certificate.

Cheung Yung, a 45-year-old widow residing in an unnumbered house in Ping Keng village, Sheung Shui, New Territories, reports that at 2 a.m. on Saturday three men forced their way into her house and decamped with $13. Another robbery took place in the same district half an hour later, when the house belonging to a married woman named Leung Lam, said to be broken into by three men who made good their escape with HK$45 and $260 in Canton currency.

ITALIAN-ABYSSINIAN DISPUTE

Alarm Felt Over Growing Tension

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1893; Received, May 12, 4.30 a.m.)

Paris, May 11.
The growing tension between Italy and Abyssinia has aroused the keenest interest and no little alarm here since generally it is anticipated that an outbreak of hostilities between the two member States of the League of Nations would be calculated to injure that institution's already sorely impaired prestige beyond hope of repair.

While official quarters are observing great reserve in commenting on the situation, the Press devotes columns to despatches from Addis Ababa, Rome and especially London dealing with the various aspects of the conflict.

The "Echo de Paris" confirms the London reports that the French and British Governments intend to jointly intervene to the extent of requesting the Italian Government to accept as soon as possible the conciliation procedure recommended by the League Council and envisaging the appointment of a committee of arbitration.

The paper claims that Britain is strongly opposed to the Italian standpoint that the conflict be solved without the League's co-operation. The London correspondent of the "Echo de Paris" asserts that British official circles have now become convinced of Italy's determination to resort to measures of force with the aim of annexing the Abyssinian provinces, Harar and Ogaden in order to join up with the Italian colonies, Eritrea and Somaliland. In this case the French port, Djibouti would be cut off from the hinterland and the sources of the River Nile would be controlled by Italy—an idea which, according to the correspondent, is unpalatable to the British Government.

The correspondent adds that Britain is anxious that Italy should not commit herself to a doubtful Abyssinian adventure but rather keep her military resources ready for an "eventual German attack on Austria." This statement, however, appears tinged with specific French tendencies discernible from the majority of

French Press comments on international problems.—

ANGLO-FRENCH EFFORTS

London, May 11.
Consultations have begun between the British and French Governments regarding the Abyssinian situation in order to discover what further steps are possible to hasten the establishment of a conciliation commission agreed upon by Italy and Abyssinia.

According to the Italo-Abyssinian Treaty of 1928, the commission will consist of two representatives of either country and one neutral. Inability to agree to the terms of reference so far has prevented the commission being formed, and Britain and France have advised that early establishment of the commission would be expedient in the interests of peace.—

"INSULTING" SPEECH

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)
Rome, May 10.

What the Abyssinian Foreign Minister terms "insulting" in the speech given on Tuesday in the Italian Chamber by the Colonial Secretary Lessona, was the subject of a protest to the Italian Foreign Ministry on Friday by the Abyssinian Charge d'Affaires.

Abyssinia protests that Lessona accused them of not observing the terms of friendship of 1928 and adds that Abyssinia had not only observed this treaty but even had resorted to the League of Nations in an attempt to secure the commencement of arbitration proceedings provided for by the treaty.

Despite the warlike preparations on the part of Italy, Abyssinia had maintained a peaceful and correct attitude throughout the dispute and repeatedly but vainly demanded it should be settled by arbitration.

Abyssinia also could not be held responsible for the construction of the street from Dessie to Assab not having been begun.

The protest concludes with the declaration that Italy's obligations both as a signatory to the Italian and Abyssinian treaty as well as a member of the League of Nations had been disregarded by the Secretary of the state, Lessona.—

THE CARNIVAL SPIRIT

Saturday Night In London

London, May 12.
Over five hundred people fainted and were treated at the emergency ambulance station at Queen Victoria Memorial yesterday. Twelve serious cases were sent to hospital including a woman with broken ribs as the result of a huge throng which saw Their Majesties make two final appearances on the balcony of Buckingham Palace.

Crowds also thronged all streets where floodlighting was staged, especially St. James' Park where trees and flowers looked beautiful in the glare of the electric lamps. The carnival atmosphere pervaded the Piccadilly and Strand neighbourhood, while Trafalgar Square at midnight resembled a vast open air dance hall. Singing and dancing was conducted by a man sitting on one of the lions' heads until the crowds were dispersed by the police. The crowds behaved in a very orderly manner and good humour prevailed during the whole evening.

GOOD WILL ROGERS

New York, May 12.
An invitation to the King and Queen to visit America was made by Mr. Will Rogers in a humorous broadcast speech last night. He said that Their Majesties ought to see the country and he would tell the Prince of Wales to get after them and ask them to do so as "he is a good guy." Even if they do not come, "let us know if there is any chance of us joining you on the same terms as Canada. It looks as if we have bitten off more liberty than we can handle."—

SCHARNHORST SAILS FOR THE EAST

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)
Hermen, May 10.

The North German Lloyd's new 18,000-ton express liner, Scharnhorst, sailed on Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock from Bremerhaven on her maiden voyage to the Far East. The large crowd which assembled on the quay and lustily cheered down the Weser River to open sea were treated to another imposing spectacle when shortly afterwards the giant liner, Europa, sailed for New York.

The "Scharnhorst" together with her two sister ships which will be ready later this year will inaugurate the new express service to the Far East by which the passage between Genoa and Shanghai will be cut to 27 days.—

BALKAN LEAGUE MEETS AT BUCHAREST

Uneasiness At Secret Rearmament

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1893; Received, May 11, 7.30 p.m.)

Bucharest, May 11.

The first sitting of the Conference of the Premiers of the Balkan League began on Friday night at 8.30 o'clock and lasted till 10.20, the unusually long session being explained by the eagerness of all to conclude the proceedings on Saturday in time for the departure for home of those taking part. M. Yefitch, Yugoslavian Premier, was especially desirous of returning promptly because of the situation created by the result of the general election.

M. Titulescu, Rumanian Foreign Minister, told the Press that Friday's meeting took place in the most cordial spirit and "one might almost say passionate friendliness." According to other sources, the first session dealt chiefly with the attitude the Balkan League will take up towards the Danubian Conference. All foreign ministers agreed that the first day of June was too early for the conference, seeing that this would hardly leave time enough for the reconciliation of the differences in standpoint of the separate States interested.—

RECONCILIATION EFFORT

Bucharest, May 12.
The Balkan Entente conference ended last night. No communique was issued, but it is understood that the conference strove to reconcile Yugoslavia with the other three powers on the question of rearmament of Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria which has reportedly begun in a clandestine manner, causing uneasiness.

The other three are apparently readier than Yugoslavia to rely on concerted action by Britain, France and Italy.

M. Yefitch, the Yugoslavian Premier, will shortly visit Signor Mussolini in an endeavour to obtain closer collaboration between Italy and the Little Entente.—

BRITISH TRADE FAIR

Singapore Stages Exhibition

Singapore, May 4.

The British Trade Fair—the greatest that Singapore has yet seen—had a rousing send-off yesterday when His Excellency the Governor performed the opening ceremony.

"Just as the British Industries Fair at Home is the Empire's shop window... so the Singapore British Trade Fair has become the one place where Malaya can see some of the vast range of goods which the Empire can sell and where she can also display some of her own manufactures," said His Excellency.

There are more than 150 stalls at the Fair, all tastefully decorated and all brilliantly illuminated. Last night the centre of attraction was the Golden Arrow car in which the late Sir Henry Segrave put up a speed of over 200 miles an hour.

There was colour everywhere last night, and the maze of lanes leading to the 165 stalls—an increase of 127 from the first Fair held in 1932—was thronged with a cosmopolitan mass.

There was music in the air—supplied by the several music dealers who are displaying goods.

Last night visitors were especially attracted by the gleaming models of British motor-cars—even to the tiniest exhibit, a scooter-car not two feet high from the ground nor more than five feet in length, with a consumption of 75 miles to the gallon and capable of doing 15 miles an hour.

MINIATURE OLYMPIA
This miniature Olympia is among the most intriguing sections of the Fair. As His Excellency said, "The British (motor-car) manufacturer, in fact, has met the local demand for a light car with low running costs."

In 1932, at the first Trade fair 40 decorated motor-lorries formed a procession through the streets. This year, the motor section has increased tremendously. Nine firms are exhibitors in this section which has been organised by the Motor Traders' Association of Malaya.

GOLDEN ARROW
Another exhibit of great interest was the Golden Arrow which arrived in Singapore on Thursday and which was delivered to the Fair grounds yesterday. It took over 80 men to lift her bodily on to the pedestal.

It was in this car that the late Sir Henry Segrave achieved the world's land speed record of 231.362 miles per hour. Twenty-four feet long, the Golden Arrow weighs two and a half tons.

This is the first occasion on which it has been displayed in this part of the world. It was brought out to Singapore with the permission of Viscount Wakefield.

ARTISTIC BACKGROUNDS
Features of many stands are mechanical working objects advertising goods.

JAPANESE AVIATOR LEAVES HESTON

London, May 12.

The Japanese pilot, Katsuta Roano took off from Heston at 8.21 a.m. British standard time on a British Eagle machine in an attempt on a record solo flight to Tokyo via Brussels, Vienna, Belgrade, Istanbul, Bagdad, Karachi, Calcutta, Rangoon, Bangkok, Hong Kong and Shanghai.

It is understood the idea is to establish a new less dangerous route between England and Japan.

The Japanese aviator landed here at 10.42 a.m. and slightly damaged the under-carriage of his machine. He will probably continue his flight to-morrow.—

CANADIAN ATTITUDE

Japanese Paper Voices Indignation

Tokyo, May 12.

Commenting on the Canadian attitude towards Japan which the paper thinks is quite unsatisfactory and unlike the friendly attitude of Australia and New Zealand, the "Hochi" voices indignation over Canada's unduly severe restrictions on Japanese merchandise.

The paper deprecates that Canada shows no conciliation to meet Japan's request for readjustment of trade between the two countries, but on the contrary is imposing severe restrictions against Japanese goods.—
Reuter.

EXPULSION FROM THE SEIYUKAI

Tokyo, May 12.

The Executive Committee of the Seiyukai unanimously adopted a resolution expelling Dr. Rentaro Mizuno and Keisuke Mochizuki, leading members of the party, who joined the National Policy Council in defiance of the party resolution.

BOYCOTT OF SIAMESE RICE URGED

Nanking, May 12.

The Chamber of Commerce has issued a circular telegram urging a boycott of Siamese rice as a reprisal against the discriminations against Chinese in Siam, especially the forcible closure of Chinese schools there.—
Reuter.

All the stands are provided with artistic background. This freedom with brush and paints is one of the things which most strikes a visitor who has seen the previous three fairs. Various cloths have also been draped over the rear walls with equally artistic effectiveness.

The Fair this year is more ambitious and wider in its scope than ever. It provides a clear sign of the times that prosperity is once again in our midst.

MR. W. W. ASTOR

To Represent Fulham

Mr. William Waldorf Astor, Lord Astor's heir, has been chosen by the executive as Conservative candidate in East Fulham at the General Election. Following the loss of the seat to the Socialists in October 1933, Mr. Bertram Mills became the prospective candidate, but he retired because he felt he could not nurse the constituency as he thought it ought to be nursed.

Mr. Astor was one of three possible candidates selected in the Spelthorne division of Middlesex before it was decided to attempt to raise funds to pay the election expenses of the present member, Sir Reginald Blaker.

Split Healed

The writer is informed that the adoption of Mr. Astor was unanimous.

It heals a split which had existed among Conservatives in the division on the question whether they should fight the next election on a "hundred per cent. Conservative" basis or as supporters of the National Government.

Mr. Astor, it is understood, told the East Fulham executive: "I am an old-fashioned Conservative and a supporter of the National Government. On the India question I am supporting the Government's White Paper. But at the same time I do respect the views of Conservatives with other opinions on this matter."

When The Socialist Won
Mr. Astor was introduced to Fulham by Mr. John Vaughan Morgan, a son of the late member for East Fulham, Sir Kenyon Vaughan Morgan, whose death necessitated the by-election in which the seat was captured for the first time by the Socialists.

In the by-election Mr. J. C. Wilmot had a majority of 4840 over the Conservative, Alderman Waldron, in a 60 per cent. poll.

They Would Be Seven
Mr. Astor is 27. He has already had an interesting career.

He was Lord Lytton's private secretary during the latter's trip to Manchuria as chairman of the League Commission. He also visited Japan, where he stayed with Prince Chichibu, the Emperor's brother.

Recently he has been assistant secretary of the Pilgrim Trust. He is a director of two companies, East Kent Growers and an advertising agency.

If Mr. Astor should win East Fulham, and the Astors now in Parliament hold their seats, the family party will number seven.

The occasion will be their Majesties' drive to St. Paul's on May 8.

TWENTY-FIRST ANNIVERSARY

H.A.C. Survivors Prepare

Survivors of the original first battalion of the Honourable Artillery Company, which sailed for France on September 18, 1914, are already preparing to celebrate the 21st anniversary of that occasion.

Usually there are about 120 at the annual "Sailing Dinner" held at Armoury House, in Finsbury—one of the most exclusive affairs of the kind, since no one who did not sail in the Westmeath, the ship which carried the battalion to France, may attend.

The Westmeath's Bell
This year the survivors are arranging to meet at Ypres on September 27 to 29, and will possibly be received by the Burmester.

Besides the dinner at the Hotel Continental, there will be a ceremony at the Menin Gate. Already a large number of acceptance have been received at Armoury House.

There has been some talk, the writer believes, of talking over for the dinner the ship's bell of the Westmeath which the H.A.C. acquired about six years ago. It hangs behind the Chair of Sailing Dinners, and is rung to order silence instead of the rap of the usual chairman's mallet. Unfortunately, it is rather a cumbersome thing to travel.

A Leaf Each Day
The H.A.C., which, by the way, will provide a guard of honour at St. Paul's Cathedral during the Thanksgiving Service on May 6, performed during the great war the greatest service in its long history.

Behind glass in the church of St. Botolph, Bishopsgate, lies its roll of honour, a goldbound book containing 980 names of officers and men of the H.A.C. who fell. A concealed light kept permanently burning, shines on the book, of which one leaf is turned each day.

FRANCO-POLISH RELATIONS

Little Light On The Future.

Warsaw, May 11.

Little light has been thrown on the future of Franco-Polish relations by the communique issued at the close of the Laval-Beck conversations. It refers to a frank and cordial exchange of views and says that both Ministers realised the community of their efforts in the cause of peace and European security by organisation of wide international collaboration open to all.

The communique adds that the Ministers congratulate themselves on the ability to put at the service of peace this desire for solidarity as expressed in the Franco-Polish alliance.—

POLICE WARNED

Warsaw, Earlier.

Conversations between M. Laval and the Polish Government proceeded to-day in a friendly but frankly uninterested atmosphere on the part of the Poles. M. Laval paid round visits, including a call on Premier Slawek and President Moscicki. Conversations with Col. Beck began this morning but no official statement has been issued in regard to progress.

Despite the atmosphere being more friendly than hitherto, it is generally felt that the Eastern Pact is dead as far as Poland is concerned.

The Polish Police received information last night from the French Secret Police that an attempt will be made on M. Laval's life and most stringent precautions have been taken.—

MEETING AT FLORENCE

Schuschnigg And Mussolini

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1893; Received, May 12, 4.30 a.m.)

Florence, May 11.

The anticipated meeting between the Italian Premier, Mussolini and the Austrian Chancellor, Dr. Schuschnigg took place here on Saturday when the statesmen conferred for two hours. They subsequently had luncheon together and took a drive through the city, in the course of which they deposited a wreath at the monument for the war dead.

No official communique concerning topics and the results of the conversation has as yet been issued, but it is stated by informed quarters that all the questions in which the two Governments were concerned were discussed at length. A complete agreement of views was reached and the meeting once more affirmed the great cordiality characterising the relationship between both countries. The vague phrasing of this information leaves the question open as to whether the two statesmen had succeeded in removing any of the formidable obstacles blocking the road to the Danubian settlement which it is hoped to attain in the forthcoming Rome Conference.

Il Duce left Florence on Saturday afternoon by air for Rome where he was scheduled to meet the French Air Minister, General Demail on Saturday evening.

Dr. Schuschnigg is expected to station by Colonel Beck and the French Ambassador.—

LOYAL MESSAGE

From Singapore

Singapore, May 4.
The following telegram was despatched by His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies yesterday:—

It is my privilege to convey to you for submission to His Majesty the King on behalf of the people of the Straits Settlements an expression of our heartfelt good wishes on the occasion of His Silver Jubilee and an assurance of our deep and abiding loyalty to the Throne. We are of many creeds and races, but we rejoice to know that we dwell together in unity and that so we are able in a real sense to take part as one family in this time of homage. We recall with gratitude the protection which His Majesty extends to us and His unfailing interest in our welfare. The school children among us ask that His Majesty may be pleased to accept their loving congratulations.

We pray that His Majesty may be very happy and that with Her Majesty the Queen he may be spared for many years in health and strength.

SIAMESE ROYALTY IN SHANGHAI

Shanghai, May 8.
H.R.H. Prince Purachatra, uncle to the present King of Siam, and brother to his predecessor, was a distinguished arrival yesterday in the Conte Rosso, having left his native country several weeks ago. Jovial, and characterized by a perpetual cigar, the Prince was met by the press, preferring to talk "shop" than to refer to politics in Siam. He expressed himself as having had a splendid time since his departure and indicated that he would be greatly disappointed if his present mood did not continue.

His Highness is remaining in Shanghai about five days before going to Japan. Later he will visit Chicago and other American cities, before proceeding to Mexico City. He could not state when his pleasure tour would be concluded.

BRITISH TRADE'S BIG LEAP

British export trade continues to improve. This is shown by the Board of Trade returns for March issued recently.

Not only were the figures substantially higher than for March last year, but they also exceeded those for January of this year in spite of the fact that last month there were five Sundays against four in the first month of the year—and one less working day.

March, 1935 $35,951,774
February, 1935 $34,097,501
January, 1935 $35,481,098
March, 1934 $33,068,530
These totals show that last month's figures advanced by $1,854,773 on February, $470,676 on January, and $2,883,244 on March of last year.

Of the increase on the comparative month of last year $2,431,497 was in articles wholly or mainly manufactured.

Coal has shown a big upward tendency, the exports totalling $2,522,643, an advance of $226,290.

The quarter's exports aggregated $105,498,318, which is a jump of $10,730,060 on the corresponding period of last year.

DERBY CALL-OVER

London, May 10.
The latest call-over for the Epsom Derby is as follows:

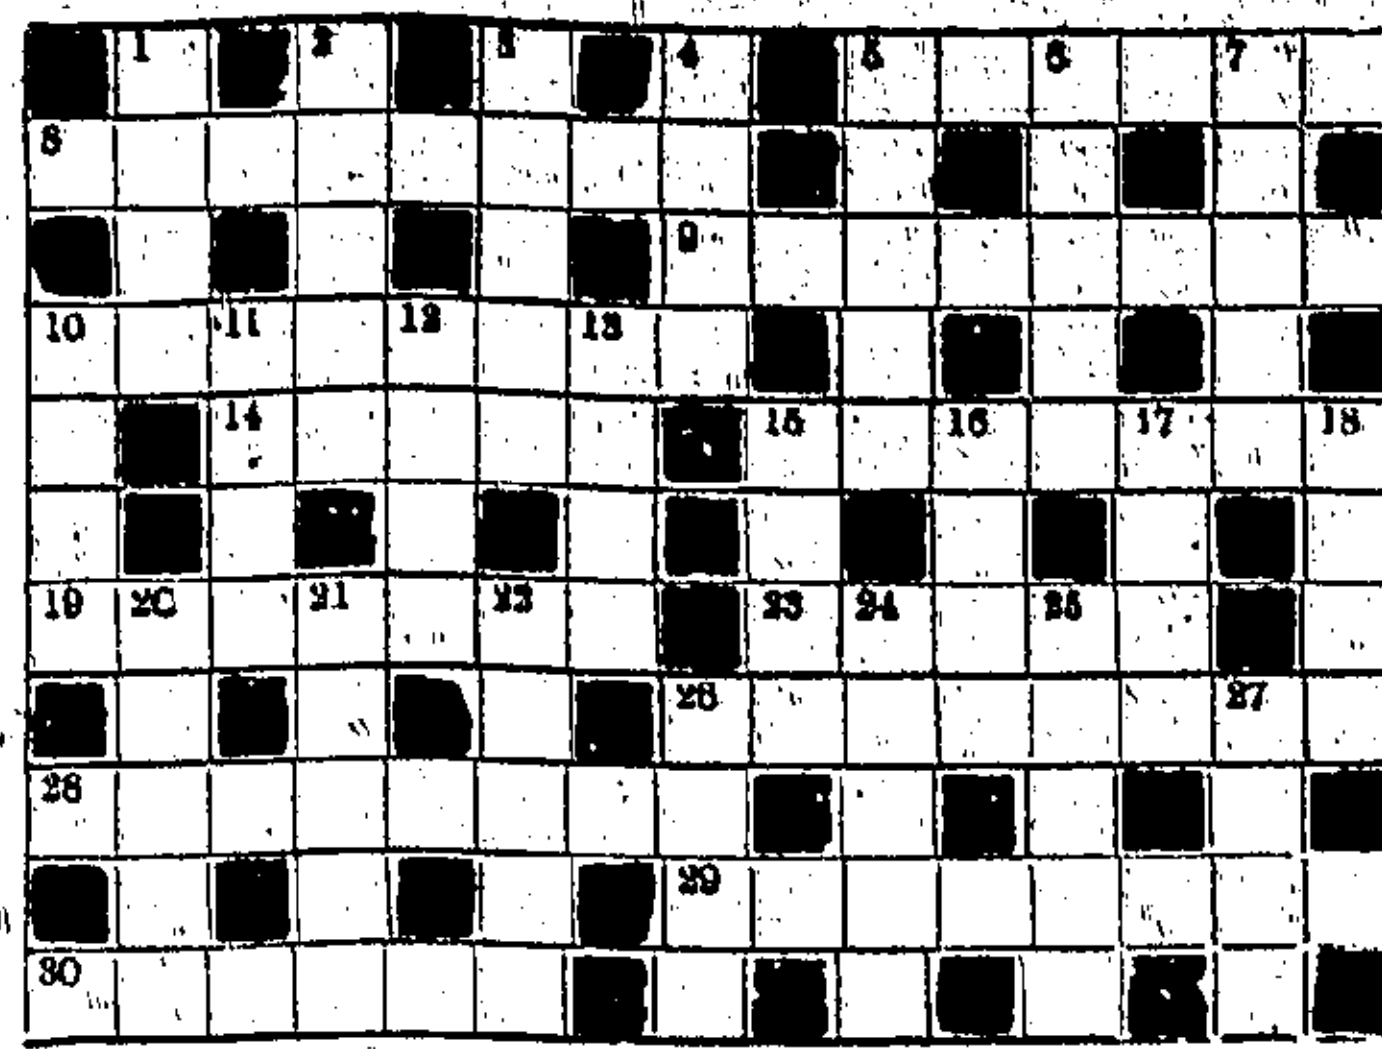

13/8 Bahram (o)
7/4 Bahram (t)
5/1 Bobblelight (o)
11/2 Bobblelight (t)
9/1 Hairan (t and o)

"BABY" OF THE HOUSE

Mr. Charles Taylor, the new member for Eastbourne, will be the "baby" of the House of Commons. He robs Lord Willoughby de Eresby of the distinction. He is 24.

Lord Willoughby de Eresby has been the "baby" of the House since 1933, when he entered Parliament at a by-election. At that time he was 23.

He dispossessed Mr. R. Robinson, who had been "baby" since the General Election of 1931, when he was 24.

There are ten months between Mr. Robinson and Lord Willoughby de Eresby.

The "baby" of the last Parliament was Mr. Frank Owen, who became M.P. at 23.

JUBILEE SUPPER

Bowling Green's Function

An Jubilee supper and smoking concert was thoroughly enjoyed by members of the Kowloon Bowling Green on Saturday night when over 70 people attended.

Mr. W. E. Hale, the Vice-President of the Club who occupied the Chair paid a tribute to the Jubilee sub-committee for their work during the Jubilee Week and for the arrangements for the night.

The impending departure of Mr. T. F. Bradford on retirement from the Colony was also referred to and Mr. Hale thanked Mr. Bradford for the untiring energy and efforts which he had displayed during his tenure of office in the various committees and sub-committees of the Club.

Concert
An impromptu concert followed the dinner which was well received. Mr. W. Woodward rendered several fine pieces at the piano, both humorous and otherwise, while Mr. R. Sander sang the "Jolly Old Cavalier" and was heartily encouraged.

For irritable Children

In the "Strand Magazine" of March 1933, the well-known food expert, Miss Kathleen Dane, writes:

"Many children of the irritable, nervous type, owe their state to a deficiency of organic salts, particularly calcium, notwithstanding the fact that the dietary appears to be properly balanced. Such youngsters do well when the diet is reinforced by a well-retained mineral food, such as 'Kalzana,' which medical men all over the country are now recommending."

Your quickly-growing child needs extra calcium to help the formation of straight bones, healthy teeth, and a strong constitution. Start your boy or girl on a course of Kalzana—you will be surprised at the all-around improvement Kalzana effects. Irritability disappears, appetite returns and soon the formerly "difficult" child will be a happy, healthy youngster again.

FALLING OUT

Herr Himmler's action in ordering the wholesale arrest of pastors has added Dr. Frick, the Minister of the Interior, and Dr. Mueller, the Primate, to the growing list of leading Nazis with whom he is on bad terms.

Frequent attempts have been made to iron out these differences, but with only temporary success.

Last month Gen. von Blomberg gave a "beer evening" Herr Himmler was his guest of honour.

Now the two are at variance again over the arrest of the pastors, against which the Defence Minister was one of the first to protest.

Feud With Goering

The feud between Gen. Goering and Herr Himmler is of long standing. It seemed to have been healed a year ago, when Gen. Goering himself introduced Herr Himmler to his new office of Chief of the German Secret Police.

Yet before long the General was reported to be protesting against being shadowed by Herr Himmler's men.

Recently Gen. Goering found it necessary to issue a pointed public reminder that he alone had the right of making appointments to the Prussian Secret Police.

Herr Himmler, who is head of the Secret Police throughout the rest of Germany, has a certain physical resemblance to Felix Dzerzhinsky, creator of the Bolshevik Cheka.

SINGAPORE FLYING CLUB

Increase In Cross-Country
Flights

Singapore, May 4. The month of April was a record month for the Royal Singapore Flying Club, all previous records of hours flown by Club aircraft being beaten by a substantial margin. The total number of hours flown during the month was 190 hours 40 minutes. The previous highest recorded figure was that of 173 hours in November 1930.

The month also saw the successful introduction of the Club's latest and fastest aircraft—the "Miles Hawk" landplane—and also the carrying out of the longest cross-country flight yet attempted by Club machines.

Much credit for the recent steady increase in the number of hours flown is due to the enthusiasm and energy of Mr. E. C. Whiteley, the Acting (Hon.) Chief Instructor. Mr. Whiteley has acted in the capacity of Chief Instructor since January 1935, and in view of the fact that the duties of this post have been carried out entirely voluntarily and in addition to those of his normal full-time employment, he is to be congratulated on the results achieved.

NEW CHIEF INSTRUCTOR
The Club's newly appointed Chief Instructor, Mr. J. Sales, is now on his way out from England, and will probably assume his duties at the end of May.

One of the most notable events of the month was a cross-country flight by two Moth land planes to the hill station of Brastagi in Sumatra during the Easter weekend. The flight was made via Kuala Lumpur whence, after refuelling, a non-stop flight was made to Medan. The night was spent at Medan, and the machines were flown up to Brastagi the next morning.

Four Club members took part—Mr. Hughes-Hallett and Mr. Cooke in one machine, and Mr. Olds and Mr. Phillips in the other. The visitors spent two days at Brastagi, and returned by the same route on Easter Monday. A total of over 32 hours flying was put in during this week-end.

ACCIDENT AT RHIO
Also during the Easter weekend an interesting flight was made by two Club seaplanes, to the Dutch island of Rhio. A number of joy rides were taken up at Rhio, but one machine had the unfortunate to strike a submerged pipe while taxiing on the water, one compartment of the float being punctured. Temporary repairs were effected on the spot and the machine was flown back to the Club. The members participating in this flight were Messrs. Sinclair and H. L. Carter in one machine, and Messrs. Cowin and Scrase in the other.

Two flights by Club land planes were made to Kuala Lumpur during the month, one a solo flight by Mr. W. Dobree, and the other on Apr. 30, when Major R. L. Nunn flew to Kuala Lumpur in a Club machine piloted by Mr. E. C. Whiteley, in order to attend a meeting of the Federal Council.

NEW MILES HAWK PLANE
On Friday evening April 26, the Club's new Miles Hawk land plane was tested by the Chief Instructor, Mr. Whiteley, at Seletar, and this aircraft, which is of the low wing monoplane type, was shown to fulfil all the claims made for it by its makers. The machine is powered by a Cirrus Hermes Mark II engine of 115 h.p. and is a standard "Colonial" model.

Take off (two up) was accomplished in 80 yards, and the machine landed at 40 m.p.h. Top speed was 125 m.p.h. and cruising speed 100 m.p.h. The machine has a range of nearly 7 hours flying, is very comfortable and quiet in the air, and carries a high payload. It is therefore ideally suited for fast cross-country flying.

MACHINE CAPSIZED
Towards the end of the month a number of formation flying practices were carried out by Club aircraft, in preparation for the fly-past on Jubilee day. It is hoped to turn out a flight of 5 machines for this event.

During the month Mr. Murphy and Mr. Trevor Carter both went "solo" on seaplanes and Mr. Sessions completed all tests for his "A" licence.

One accident occurred to a seaplane on the water, the machine being capsized. The pilot, who was unhurt except for a "ducking," flew again in another aircraft immediately afterwards.

TALKING CLOCKS

Time for Telephone
Subscribers

Post Office engineers who have designed a "talking clock" which can give the exact time to one-tenth of a second are unable to create the perfect telephone voice, a voice which will charm the ears of subscribers who request the correct time. It is intended as an experiment to establish "talking clocks" at telephone exchanges in London, Manchester, and Bristol this year. When a subscriber asks for the time he will be connected to the clock, which is an arrangement of sound film records, and will hear the time in hours, minutes, and seconds.

Experiments have shown that a woman's voice is the most suitable for the purpose, and the Post Office proposes to hold a competition throughout England to find the ideal voice to reply to the telephone subscriber's request for the time. The success of the experiment will determine the use of "talking clocks" in Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland, and voices suitable for these countries will be selected after the experience gained in England.

More than 15,000 Post Office telephonists will be eligible for the competition, which, in view of the fact that telephonists are already selected for the high quality of their speech, will be exceptionally keen.

THE JUDGING

Prizes will be offered to the first seven successful competitors consisting of 10 guineas for the "ideal voice," 5 guineas for second place, and five prizes of 2 guineas each to the "runners up." The judging of the voices will proceed by elimination in four stages, and, as the "talking clocks" will work from sound records, the tests will be conducted over the telephone.

In the first stage of the competition the claimants will be judged by a committee consisting of telephone supervisors and telephone operators selected by the staff themselves, a particularly severe test. The best voice from each hundred competitors will be

THE OILY MAN

Caught By The Hair

Singapore, May 4. Haroon bin Ali, a tall, strapping Malay from Sumatra, who was sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment by Mr. N. Grice yesterday, has been recognized by the police as Singapore's much-talked about "oily man."

Haroon was caught after escaping from a struggle with three men in the early hours of Mar. 30 and since then burglaries of the type that the "oily man" has been credited with have ceased.

He was convicted on a charge of found wandering in Teluk Kurau between sunset and sunrise, being a reputed thief. Three previous convictions, one for housebreaking, another for fraudulent possession of property and a third for wandering in the dark, were proved against him.

The hero in the story is Nadaraja, a 20-year-old Straits-born Indian, who attempted to arrest Haroon.

Nadaraja gave evidence that about midnight on Mar. 30 he was returning home when he heard a dog barking in the compound of his house in Lorong L. Teluk Kurau. Flashing his electric torch he saw a Malay running away. He gave chase and caught up with the man who was Haroon, in the next lane.

Wholly Naked
Haroon was wholly naked and witness held him by the hair. There was a struggle, but the Malay became submissive as witness gave him a sound slap.

Two Javanese passer-by came to his assistance and when they tried to grab Haroon's arms they found them covered with oil, so they tied his wrist with a belt.

Then they led him back to Nadaraja's house, but there he suddenly wrestled himself free and there was a scuffle. Nadaraja struck him over the head with his torch and the man fell, but he suddenly rose and produced an iron rod which his captors had not seen before and which it is thought he picked up from the ground.

They were intimidated and ran away. Nadaraja made a report to the police, but when they returned to the scene the prowler had disappeared. Haroon had been carrying his clothes in his hands, Nadaraja declared, and policemen searching the grounds found a sun helmet, a pair of shoes, a pair of garters and a cigarette case, which he had dropped in his flight.

Identification Parade

Two days later, at 5 a.m., detectives saw Haroon, dressed in smart clothes riding in a rickshaw in Outram Road. They arrested him and found $40 in his possession.

Later, Nadaraja and the two Javanese picked him out of an identification parade at the station.

Haroon denying the charge, cross examined the witness at length, but the magistrate found that the identification parades conducted by Inspector Such had been satisfactory and recorded a conviction.

KING MAKER

It would be no exaggeration to say that Mr. Roosevelt might never have become President without Mr. Louis Howe, reports of whose serious illness at Washington have distressed friends in England.

Small, unassuming and so untidily dressed that he might be mistaken for one of the White House gardeners, Mr. Howe has been the President's most intimate adviser and has lived with the Roosevelts as one of the family.

Their collaboration began when Mr. Howe was working as a newspaper correspondent at Albany. As soon as Mr. Roosevelt entered the New York State legislature Mr. Howe recognized him as the coming man in American politics. When Mr. Roosevelt became President Wilson's Assistant Secretary to the Navy, he took Mr. Howe with him to Washington.

In 1921, when the President was struck down by paralysis, Mr. Howe never left his side and spent all his time ensuring that the invalid did not lose touch with current affairs.

His Greatest Adventure

Mr. Howe was largely responsible for starting the President's vast personal correspondence with future electors all over the United States.

A martyr to ill-health himself, he realised the gallant fight Mr. Roosevelt was making against tremendous physical odds. Not long ago he confessed to a friend: "I decided that the

HEADHUNTERS' COUNTRY

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, April 18.

The boundary between Burma and the Chinese province of Yunnan was first fixed by a convention signed by the British and Chinese Governments in 1894. This convention was subsequently modified by a later agreement known as the Convention of 1897. Under the terms of the last Convention a joint commission was appointed to demarcate, and if necessary, to modify the frontier as fixed by the Convention. In 1904 the commission reached agreement over the greater portion of the frontier, but failed to agree over a section about 200 miles in length near or in the country inhabited or infested by the Wa people, a savage tribe who collect human heads.

The Scott Line

The British Government informed the Chinese Government that on the unfixed section of the frontier they would provisionally observe a line called the Scott line, after Sir George Scott, one of the original commissioners. This line includes most of the Wa country. The westernmost line claimed during the negotiations of 1894-97 is known as the Liuchen line, and intersects the Wa country in a manner that is most inconvenient to the would-be administrator. Incidentally the Wa are unapproachable during the rainy season, which lasts from May to October.
